PORT NEWARK—the Scientifically Planned Industrial Development

is the most advantageous spot on the whole Atlantic Seaboard for the location of an industrial plant.

The manufacturer who builds at Port Newark locates his factory only eight miles away from New York City-the nation's greatest buying center for almost all kinds of products. Moreover, he places himself in a position to ship quickly and economically directly from his factory to any location in the country, by way of the abundant rail, water and highway facilities afforded at Port Newark. Seven trunk-line railroads and deep water shipping meet within the actual limits of the

These same splendid facilities of course serve him in the delivery of raw materials to his plant.

Within five years this will be the biggest industrial development in the east. Foresighted manufacturers are locating at Port Newark now, while the best sites are available and costs low. Write for full details.
